Re: KellyGrip-Dark Grey High Friction Surfacing Approval Trials
N2 Primatestown, Co. Meath

Dear Mr. Kelly,

I refer to your correspondence of 24 April, 2015, regarding the above.

The Authority as you may be aware has just published a revised specification for road surfacing materials on our network. The specification may be accessed through our website and the appropriate section of the Manual of Contract Documents for Roadwork's is the Specification for Roadwork's, section 900.

In respect of High Friction Surfacing there have been a number of changes to the previous version, most significant of which is the requirement to meet a pull-off test (clause 10.2.4.5). We can confirm that your product has met the requirements of this test and also of the performance requirements set out in the current specification as observed and witnessed on the N2 trial site. Accordingly we can confirm it's suitability for use as per the current 900 series.

Yours sincerely
